

Using data derived from the Shuttle Radar Topography Mission (SRTM), contour lines at intervals of 5 meters were created for this affected area along the western Sumatra coast. The purple line represents the contour range from 15 - 20 meters, above which little impact is seen in this area.

